Mother Teresa Women's University, Kodaikanal

Revised M.Phil.Regulations based on University Grants Commission (Minimum Standards and Procedure for Award of M.Phil. Degrees) Regulations, 2016)

M.Phil. Regulations - 2019

1.Genesis

The Mother Teresa Women's University is situated in Kodaikanal, a hill station nestling among the upper Palani Hills in the Western Ghats. It is the Switzerland of the East, the Emerald of the South, the Chilled Paradise among the Hills, the 'Princess of the Hills' and so on. Thick patches of tropical mountain forests known as "shoals" drape the Kodai valley. This undulating mountain range with Eucalyptus, Wattle, and Pines grown extensively breathes an inner harmony unobtainable in other commercialized hill stations.

At an altitude of 2,144 meters (7,000 ft) above sea level and only ten degrees north of the equator, its salubrious climate attracts tourist from far and wide, throughout the year.

The Tamil Nadu Government announced the setting up of a Women's University at Kodaikanal in 1984 to commemorate the Bharathi Centenary Celebrations and in honor of this poet 'Bharathi', whose poetic voice urged women to rise up from their slumber and march towards equal status. The Women's University, named after a legend of our times, a veteran humanitarian and Nobel Laureate for Peace, Mother Teresa, was established in 1984 under the special Tamil Nadu Act 15 at Kodaikanal.

The University is unique - 'by, for and of women' and is devoted solely to the women's cause, and seeks to empower women through education. Its major focus is on teaching, research, monitoring, consultancy, and aims to provide equal status for women in society.

The University with no religious association attracts women from all sections of life without any overtones of caste, creed, region or religion. At its inception, it was envisaged that the University would grow into an institute of international standard, facilitating staff exchanges, guest lecturing, and collaborative researches with other Universities in India and abroad. The University's goal is to empower women at all levels. It has the pride of being the Third Women's University in India, and the only Women's University in Tamil Nadu.

The University which was unitary became an affiliating type in 2002. At present, it has 11 Women's Colleges under its umbrella. The University comes as a big boon to this hill station as there is a large percentage of student population who belong to the rural, socially deprived and economically downtrodden, living below the poverty line.
